

Month / Year	Event
May 1871	A temporary public hospital (closed in February 1872) was established at the former site of the Nagoya Clan's judicial council (currently 1, Marunouchi 3-chome, Naka-ku), and a temporary medical school was established at a former town hall (abolished in August 1872).
April 1872	Managed as a charity hospital based on donations, accompanying the abolition of the clan (closed in February 1873).
May 1873	Managed as a temporary hospital with prefectural citizens' donations (at the separate temple of Nishi Honganji Temple; currently 1, Monzencho, Naka-ku)
November 1873	A medical training site was established (at the separate temple of Nishi Honganji Temple).
January 1875	The name was changed to Aichi Prefecture Hospital.
April 1876	The name was changed to Public Medical Training Site and Public Hospital.
June 1876	The name was changed to Public Medical Center.
July 1877	The Center was relocated to Tenosaki-cho (currently 17 and 18, Sakae 1-chome, Naka-ku) (hospital opening ceremony on July 1).
April 1878	The name was changed to Public Medical School
October 1881	The name was changed to Aichi Medical School and Aichi Hospital.
August 1901	The name Aichi Medical School was changed to Aichi Prefectural Medical School.
July 1903	Aichi Prefectural Medical School was newly started as Aichi Prefectural Medical Professional School.
March 1914	A new building was built in Tsuruma-cho, Naka-ku (currently Showa-ku) and the school was relocated.
July 1920	Aichi Medical University was established.
July 1922	The name of Aichi Hospital was changed to Aichi Medical University Hospital.
June 1924	The name was changed to Aichi Medical University Affiliated Hospital.
May 1931	The jurisdiction was transferred; the names were respectively changed to Nagoya Medical University and Nagoya Medical University Affiliated Hospital.
April 1939	Nagoya Imperial University School of Medicine was started, and the name of the hospital was changed to Nagoya Imperial University School of Medicine-Affiliated Hospital.
May 1939	Nagoya Imperial University Provisional Affiliated Medical Division was established.
February 1943	Nagoya Imperial University Aviation Medicine Research Institute was established (abolished in January 1946).
April 1944	The name was changed to Nagoya Imperial University Affiliated Medical Division.
July 1944	A separate hospital of Nagoya Imperial University School of Medicine-Affiliated Hospital was established (integrated to the main Hospital in May 1996).
April 1946	Nagoya Imperial University Environmental Medicine Research Institute was established.
October 1947	The names were respectively changed to Nagoya University School of Medicine and Nagoya University School of Medicine-Affiliated Hospital.
October 1947	The name was changed to Nagoya University Affiliated Medical Division (abolished in March 1948).
May 1949	New Nagoya University was started. The names were respectively changed and Nagoya University School of Medicine and Nagoya University Hospital were started.

Month / Year	Event
April 1951	School of Medicine-Affiliated Nursing School was established (abolished in March 1980).
July 1955	School of Medicine-Affiliated X-ray Technician School was established.
April 1959	School of Medicine-Affiliated Midwife School was established (abolished in March 1981).
April 1959	School of Medicine-Affiliated Axenic Animal Research Facility was established (reorganized in April 1983).
April 1961	School of Medicine-Affiliated Health Laboratory Technician School was established.
April 1962	School of Medicine-Affiliated Cancer Research Facility was established (reorganized in April 1983).
April 1965	School of Medicine-Affiliated Medical Fungus Research Facility was established (reorganized in April 1983).
April 1966	Honors courses were set up at the School of Medicine-Affiliated X-ray Technician School.
April 1969	The name was changed to the School of Medicine-Affiliated Radiological Technician School (abolished in March 1982).
April 1972	The name was changed to the School of Medicine-Affiliated Clinical Laboratory Technician School (abolished in March 1981).
October 1977	Nagoya University Medical Technology Junior College was established (reorganized in October 1997).
April 1983	School of Medicine-Affiliated Pathological Control Research Facility was established (reorganized in April 2003).
May 1996	The separate hospital of the Nagoya University School of Medicine-Affiliated Hospital was integrated.
December 1996	Clinic "Nagoya University Daiko Medical Center" was established (closed in March 2011).
October 1997	Nagoya University School of Health Sciences was established.
April 2000	Prioritization of the Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine was completed.
April 2001	Medical Science Program, Master's Course, Graduate School of Medicine was established.
April 2001	The School of Medicine-Affiliated Pathological Control Research Institute and the School of Medicine-Affiliated Animal Test Facility were placed under the Graduate School of Medicine.
April 2002	Nursing Science Program of Master's Course; Medical Technology Program of Master's Course; and Rehabilitation Therapy Program of Master's Course were established at the Graduate School of Medicine.
April 2003	The Center for Neurological Diseases and Cancer, Affiliated with the Graduate School of Medicine was established.
April 2003	Medical Administration Course, Medical Science Program, Master's Course was established at the Graduate School of Medicine.
April 2004	Nursing Science Program Master's Course; Medical Technology Program Master's Course, and Rehabilitation Therapy Program Master's Course at the Graduate School of Medicine were placed under Doctoral Course (first-stage course / second-stage course).
May 2004	The Graduate School of Medicine-Affiliated Medical Education Research Support Center was established.
July 2005	The School of Medicine-Affiliated General Medicine Education Center was established.

